

What is the ideal Lip Filler and Why?

The lips are unique structure on our face that is functional, dynamic and aesthetically important in sexual dimorphism. They are also an area that others may touch, sometimes frequently. In this lecture we will look into what are the rheological proprieties that makes an ideal lip filler.

Sculptra®: The original and the only FDA approved PLLA to improve skin quality and enhance facial shape

Sculptra was first launched in 2004 in US. To this day it remains the only FDA approved PLLA available in the market. While other products have tried to claim that they are second or third generation of but none of them can back up their safety and efficacy with robust clinical studies like Sculptra. Sculptra is the only one proved to improve skin quality and dermal thickness by stimulating the production of type 1 & 3 collagen.
