

HIDAJAT, Inneke Jane, is a board certified dermatovenereologist from Indonesia, graduated from University of Padjadjaran in 2014, then she earned her Master Degree in Medical Science in 2015 from the same University.

Her curiosity and enthusiasm in procedural and aesthetic dermatology brought her to pursue a one year Clinical Fellowship Training in Dermatologic Surgery at the Siriraj Hospital, University of Mahidol Bangkok, Thailand in 2017. During the training, she also had the opportunity to rotate in several plastic surgery and aesthetic clinics in Korea.

Dr. Jane, as she is usually being called, has a huge passion in teaching. Her passion in teaching has put her in the position as a lecturer and the Head of Clinical Education Committee in the Medical Faculty, Atma Jaya Catholic University of Indonesia Jakarta. Aside than that, she is also appointed to be one of the scientific board of Indonesian Dermatologic Laser Study Group, one of the prestigious division from Indonesian Society of Dermatology and Venereology. Dr. Jane is often invited to give lectures and share her experiences in Dermatology conferences, particularly on laser and aesthetic dermatology. She is also often being invited to become the trainer in aesthetic dermatology workshops, particularly for laser and injectables. She also has numbers of publications as author and co-author. Her other passion is sports, she always makes time for it in her daily routine. Her recent interest is on trail running and cross fit. She believes that a healthy body helps her to function maximally, in her packed activities as a teacher, clinician, researcher, and speakers.
