

Korean style female hair line correction

Hangrae Cho M.D., PhD. Dermatology

Department of Dermatology, Ohkims Dermatology & Hair Transplantation Center. Korea

The shape of the hairline of the forehead is important for attractive and well-balanced face especially for female. Round shape of hair line is most preferred type by Asian women. Recently hair transplantation has been popular for females who want to correct female hair loss and hair line correction. The surgeon should make the hair line design which the patient wants, and the very natural hair line by macro and micro irregular implanting technique.
